COMMENTS

- The owners of an aging apartment in suburban Brisbane were looking for a much more modern look and chose a stylish, plain white floor to match the new kitchen that had just been completed.
- The seamless Resin Guard™ system was installed throughout the entire 85m² internal area, which included the kitchen, living room and two bedrooms.
- A semi-gloss topcoat was added to reduce gloss levels and help ease cleaning demands of the pure white surface.
- Surface preparation involved the removal of stubborn glue left over from the vinyl previously in place.

*"The floor is one of the first things we get comments on as soon as people come inside.
The finish is amazing and Charlie and I are very picky with quality."*
