COMMENTS

- Water damage had forced the owner of this sprawling suburban home in Brisbane to remove the carpet in the guest rooms and seek a more moisture-resistant solution.
- Apart from moisture tolerance, a major design aim was to brighten the area, which didn't receive a lot of natural light on the lower level of the multi-story home. Rather than go for a plain white floor, the client selected Resin Marble™ in the soft and subtle Pearl colour for an added touch of flair.
- Installation was to be carried out while the family was at home, so the products needed to be free of strong odours and harmful solvents.

"Excellent service and devoted to the end result, a perfect floor and completely happy customer."

- David Marriner, Homeowner
